Beckons Labor's Support

Adlai Asks American Workman to Pick Democratic Vision, Not GOP Idleness

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson beckoned to the American working man today to "choose vision instead of complacency" in this election year and "march with the Democrats along the road to the new America."

The Democratic candidate for president accused the Republicans of offering labor and the nation proposals and pious words but no performance.

Stevenson conceded there were "forward-looking parts" in the acceptance speeches President Eisenhower and Vice President Nixon delivered at the Republican National Convention here last month. But he said that sitting complacently on the convention floor and "chanting for the leader they seldom follow" was "the old Republican wrecking crew" which will vote to keep those segments of the speeches from ever becoming law.

"We must face the fact, the Democratic nominee said, "that every four years the Republican candidates talk like Democrats. I am always flattered when they borrow our ideas, but they don't keep them long enough."

Stevenson, who roused the American Legion to both bravos and boos in addressing its annual convention in Los Angeles yesterday, continued pummeling the Republicans today.

He came through some rough razzing from some of his fellow legionaries with no obvious chip on his shoulder.

The audience for which his speech was prepared today was another convention, calculated to be more friendly—a convention of the International Assn. of Machinists in the San Francisco Civic Auditorium.

Stevenson said he was proud of what he called a natural feeling of kinship between the working people of America and the Democratic party. Both, he said, "stand as the people's advocates."

"And what is more natural," he asked, "than our common determination to move ahead together along the road to the new America—a land where all may dwell in self-respect and freedom and all may share in an ever-expanding opportunity?"

Dulles Calls Meeting To Brief Congressmen On Suez Negotiations

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles today called in a group of congressmen for a bipartisan briefing on the Suez Canal negotiations with Egypt.

The congressmen were all of the available members of the Senate Foreign Relations and the House Foreign Affairs Committees.

Only one Republican, Sen. Lanigan (ND), was listed in the group for the afternoon meeting at the State Department. Four Democrats Sens. Humphrey (Minn.) and Mansfield (Mont.) and Reps. Richards (S. C.) and Carnahan (Mo.), sent word they would attend. Richards is chairman of the House committee.

Senate Republican Leader Knowland, who is in Chicago today for a speech, will be briefed separately when he returns Saturday, informants said.

Dulles' aides reported the secretary decided to give the briefing to keep Congress informed on the pace and prospects of diplomatic talks on the Suez crisis which began Monday in Cairo. They said as far as they knew there was nothing of an emergency character involved in the briefing.

Kidnap Victim Located

Body of 6-Weeks-Old Cynthia Ruotolo Is Recovered From Connecticut Lake

HAMDEN, Conn. (AP)—The body of kidnaped 6-weeks-old Cynthia Ruotolo was recovered from a lake here today, the medical examiner reported.

Dr. Sterling Taylor came to newsmen held in a roped off area 100 yards from the shore of Lake Whitney and said the identification was definite.

Cynthia was taken from her carriage in the foyer of a store two miles from the lake Saturday. Her mother was shopping inside.

The recovery came only a brief time after a new radio appeal was made for the abductor to return the baby safely. The child's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Ruotolo, had all but given up on appeals to the kidnaper Tuesday.

The latest appeal came from the New Haven County Bar Assn., asking that the baby be returned to a lawyer.

There was no word from police whether the discovery of the body brought with it any clues as to the kidnaper.

The child's body was found floating on the lake and was recovered by the Hamden Fire Dept. rescue team.

Mr. and Mrs. Ruotolo were whisked away in a police car to an unknown destination.

Police converged on the scene shortly after noon. They roped off the lake shore.

The site is not far from a heavy residential area. The body was found near a bridge crossing the lake. The bridge is seldom used.

Officials identified the last victim as brakeman Lawrence McCormick, Raton, N.M., and said the body was found in the wreckage of a dormitory car on the Chief, where the victim was riding from Raton to Albuquerque.

The other dead also were railway workers, either trainmen or dining car employees. Most were sleeping in the dormitory car.

Officials said the mail train fireman became confused and set the switch the wrong way after his train had pulled off the main line to let the Chief pass.

Reinhold said the fireman committed an "error in judgment" and the mistake was "just one of those things that is hard to figure out. He just does not know why he did it." The official identified the fireman as P. C. Caldarelli of Raton, who late last night still was in a state of shock.

Reached by telephone at his

Four tanks also were sent.

A guardsman who asked to remain unidentified said "anything can happen" today. He said the situation will be "either one way or the other. Those kids have to go to school."

A catcalling crowd of from 50 to 75 persons turned out last night to heckle the guardsmen as they entered town.

Maj. Gen. J. J. B. Williams said the guardsmen were "well prepared for any eventuality" and would remain "as long as necessary."

New Officials Named For State Air Unit

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—Col. John B. Logan of St. Joseph is the new chief of staff for the Missouri Air National Guard and Col. Charles H. DuBois Jr., of Webster Groves replaces him as commander of the 131st Bombardment Wing.

The new assignments for the World War II fliers were announced yesterday by Maj. Gen. A. D. Sheppard, Missouri adjutant general.

Error Made at Switch--

Will Question Train Crewman At Inquest Into Crash of Train

SPRINGER, N.M. (AP)—A train crewman was to be queried today at an inquest in Springer into the crash of a railway streamliner and a sidetrained mail train.

Twenty persons were killed and 35 were injured when the Santa Fe Chief slammed headon into the waiting mail train in the pre-dawn hours yesterday.

Miraculously, the 312 passengers aboard the Chief escaped death.

A railway official said a Santa Fe workman threw a switch, turning the 13-car Chief onto a bypass where it smashed into the mail train which was waiting for it to pass. The wreck was five miles south of here on rolling rangeland.

The railway spokesman, J. P. Reinhold, vice president in charge of public relations, said the Chief was traveling 40 to 45 m.p.h. when it rammed the mail train at 3 a.m.

The debris was cleared about 14 hours later just after the body of the 20th victim was found.

Officials identified the last victim as brakeman Lawrence McCormick, Raton, N.M., and said the body was found in the wreckage of a dormitory car on the Chief, where the victim was riding from Raton to Albuquerque.

The other dead also were railway workers, either trainmen or dining car employees. Most were sleeping in the dormitory car.

Officials said the mail train fireman became confused and set the switch the wrong way after his train had pulled off the main line to let the Chief pass.

Reinhold said the fireman committed an "error in judgment" and the mistake was "just one of those things that is hard to figure out. He just does not know why he did it." The official identified the fireman as P. C. Caldarelli of Raton, who late last night still was in a state of shock.

Reached by telephone at his

Raton home, Caldarelli was asked day after the accident and was given a sedative.

He answered, "I don't know."

"It was a great shock . . . They were my friends," he said. "I scrambled cars as 'twisted and standing on end—a fantastic accident."

He said he had been in bed all night after the accident and was given a sedative.

John B. Curtis, Associated Press writer at the scene, described the scrambled cars as "twisted and standing on end—a fantastic accident."

The vacationing lawmakers were not due back until Oct. 23.

The nature of the development was not disclosed by either side here. But the committee, headed by Australian Prime Minister Robert G. Menzies, said today and tomorrow for private discussion of Egypt's viewpoint.

The discussions between the Egyptians and the committee in four formal meetings have been under a tight lid of secrecy imposed by Menzies himself since the start Monday—though the general positions of both sides are well known. The committee wants to put the canal under international control; Nasser objects to anything that would limit Egypt's sovereignty.

It seems clear the Cairo talks will last longer than either side had expected. Menzies was reported to have hoped to be aboard a plane for London by Saturday.

A committee spokesman said the development did not represent a stalemate in the talks which opened Monday, and added: "I am optimistic that a compromise will be found."

He said no time was set for the next meeting "because the mission is looking into various detailed aspects of things which President Nasser has said so far."

The committee came here with a proposal for international control of the key Middle East waterway backed by 18 of the 22 nations attending the recent London conference on the canal controversy. The conference was called after Nasser announced July 20 that Egypt had nationalized the canal. Nasser has maintained that Egypt has the right of sole control over the canal and that he will not accept any proposal for international control.

St. Sen. James P. Kelly of Trenton, chairman of the farm vote campaign, said a special effort would be made to offset what he called "misleading Democratic propaganda" about a farm depression.

"The farmers are not mad at Ike," he said.

Kelly said congressional districts, county and township committees would be set up to help explain the Eisenhower plan to "help the farmer help himself."

Financing the campaign will come in for attention at a meeting here next Monday, called by Arthur K. Atkinson of St. Louis, chairman of the fund raising group.

Kelly outlined plans for the farm campaign after a conference with Compton and John Crofoot, field man for Missouri and Oklahoma in the "Eisenhower Farm Crusade."

"The basic thought of the campaign," Kelly said, "is to promote the principle that the government should be the partner and not the master of the farmer."

Kelly charged that farm prices were depressed because of surpluses which accumulated during previous Democratic administrations.

"The newspapers of Missouri believe that all citizens have a right to know what takes place in all meetings of the public servants they elect," Roberts said.

"We believe the people depend on their newspapers to do the asking why and it is our duty to keep them fully informed."

Man, Wife Are Killed

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—A man and his wife were killed last night in a one-car crash near Boonville on Highway 40.

Dead are Lt. (JG) John Davis Van Horn, 26, a Miami, Fla. Coast Guard officer and his wife Joanne. The couple's two children escaped serious injury.

HONG KONG (AP)—Four members of the British Parliament arrived from Communist China today and said they were told that 10 Americans imprisoned there would be freed after serving their sentences "in accordance with the laws of China."

September Is The Month Of Changes and Memories

If there is any one month in the year when practically everybody gives way to the yearning to be someone else, it is in September. The child, stricken with the feeling of his days of barefoot freedom are over, tells his dad:

Nixon May Answer Adlai Before Legion

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon addresses the American Legion National Convention today, giving the veterans a full political sweep from the earlier appearance of Democratic presidential candidate Adlai Stevenson.

Nixon still was working on his speech late last night, and only bare indications of its contents seeped out of his temporary headquarters at nearby Whittier.

He was reported planning to list achievements of the Eisenhower administration and to show what it has done for veterans.

Political observers said Nixon could be expected to answer some of the statements Stevenson made when he addressed the convention yesterday.

Nixon, saddened by the death of his father, Frank A. Nixon, 77, in Whittier Tuesday night, was able to work on his address only sporadically. Friends visited the father's home throughout yesterday extending sympathy, and arrangements were being made for the funeral services tomorrow.

The illness of his father twice summoned the vice president from the Republican National Convention in San Francisco, where he was renominated for a second term, and called him back from Washington last Friday.

Attend Conference

Ten members of the Warsaw Baptist Church attended the Association Workers Conference held at the Shady Grove Baptist Church Monday night, Sept. 3. Jeanne Williams, Warsaw, sang a solo and Sam Creasy gave an eight minute talk using as his topic, "How I Can Fulfill My Responsibility to the Greek Commission Through the Church." The message of the evening was brought by Rev. Devon Hodges, pastor of the Warsaw Baptist Church, who spoke on "Missions Are My Responsibility."

Subcommittee To Call More Witnesses

WASHINGTON — The Senate Internal Security subcommittee said today it may call more witnesses for a check on "inconsistencies" in testimony involving Jacob K. Javits.

Javits, New York State attorney general campaigning for his state's Republican U.S. senatorial nomination, sought at a hearing yesterday to disprove what he called rumors linking him with Communists. He told the subcommittee his record as a member of Congress from 1947 through 1952 stands him as an anti-Communist.

Robert Morris, subcommittee counsel, told reporters he expects the subcommittee will consider today whether to call for more witnesses to check on what Morris termed inconsistencies between Javits' testimony and that of witnesses who had accused him behind closed doors.

Without giving its source, Morris said "there has been so much pressure" that the subcommittee may continue the hearings. He said further testimony had been urged also by Sen. Jenner (R-Ind.) a subcommittee member, "in justice to all concerned."

Morris said the witnesses who may be called are Mrs. Bella Dodd a self-styled former Communist official; Louise Bransten, a former San Franciscan who now lives in New York; Murray Baron, a New York City political figure, and Max Yergan, whom Morris has described as "a person who was involved with the Communists."

Javits asked for the public hearing yesterday, and urged Morris and Eastland, the only senator present to "ask me what you please." Morris fired a series of questions based on what he said was information and evidence about Javits in subcommittee files, much of it from witnesses who had been heard in close door hearings.

The issues and the questions and answers boiled down pretty much to these three main points:

1. Mrs. Dodd's testimony as quoted by Morris that the "Communist party did support" Javits in his successful 1946 campaign for a House seat. Javits testified he had approached Mrs. Dodd only as a teachers' union official, and did not know of her Communist connections. He said he had told others that "I would rather lose the election" than accept what he considered as "Commie dictated" support from the American Labor Party.

2. Javits' denial that he can recall ever having visited the San Francisco home of Miss Bransten in 1945. A report of the House Committee on Un-American Activities said the home was used frequently as a meeting place for high echelon American Reds and "members of Communist espionage rings." Morris told Javits that Yergan and others had testified behind closed doors they saw him in the Bransten home in 1945.

3. Javits' denial of any recollection he ever told Baron and Alex Rose, Liberal party officials in 1948, that he might arrange "secret support" or at least neutrality of the ALP in his second successful race for the House.

Two Men Are Held In Arkansas For Car Theft in Versailles

Two young men are being held in jail in Pine Bluff, Ark., in connection with the theft of a car belonging to Norman McCain, Versailles realtor, and in connection with a break-in and theft at Gamble's Store in Versailles last week.

The thieves entered the store through a rear window by spreading the iron bars, taking guns and socket wrenches valued at $100 as well as other merchandise and the change from the cash register. The 1955 Chevrolet belonging to McCain was taken from in front of his home. A Buick was found abandoned in front of the Frigid Food Locker, west of Versailles and was traced to a serviceman at Whiteman AFB.

According to authorities, the loot taken from the store was found in the McCain car at Pine Bluff. The men will probably be brought to Morgan County for arraignment.

Leathernecks Drown While Having Swim

NAHA, Okinawa — Eleven U.S. Marines drowned off the north shore of Okinawa yesterday while swimming during a break in field exercises, the Marine Corps announced.

The men were knocked off their feet by a strong undercurrent which was believed due to typhoon conditions, it was said.

Brig. Gen. Victor H. Krulak, commander of the 3rd Marine Division, said a freak ocean current caused the drownings.

At least 12 other Marines were saved by other Leathernecks in the area.

An extensive land and sea search was under way for remains of the 11 who drowned. All available planes were searching the sea within five miles of shore and foot patrols combed the shoreline.

The Marine Corps said that the Marines took a break from their field problem on the coast of Okinawa and went for a swim in apparently calm water.

"Before they got waist deep, the men were in trouble," an eye-witness was quoted. "They were knocked from their feet by a vicious undercurrent and tumbled seaward on the bottom."

Capt. Jack Westerman, commanding officer of Co. F of the 2nd Battalion, 9th Marine Regiment, immediately called off the swimming and ordered a human chain formed to aid the bathers.

The chain was unable to keep its footing due to the intensity of the current, the Marines said. Lt. Col. James A. Donovan, battalion commander, called helicopters and 2nd Lt. John L. Shanahan, a skin diver, played a large role in the rescue.

Hearing of trouble, Shanahan raced to the beach with a rubber raft and pulled many bathers to safety.

Unable to swim against the heavy currents, the men clung to the raft until arrival of the helicopter, piloted by Lt. James M. Middleton, Balboa, Calif., which dropped a 100-foot rope and towed the raft to shore.

After all visible Marines were rescued a roll call indicated 11 Marines missing. Persons familiar with ocean currents during a typhoon attributed the unusual undertow to Typhoon Emma, now 500 miles south of here.

The names of the Marines listed as missing were withheld.

At Taipei, Formosa, Gov. C. K. Yen told the Cabinet today that typhoon Dinah, which cut through Formosa Monday, caused the death of 27 persons.

Thirteen others are missing, and 150 were injured. More than 20,000 persons were left homeless.

National Plowing Match Again Draws Top Political Figures

NEWTON, Iowa — Each presidential year of late, something happens to the national plowing matches. The top political campaigners grab the spotlight.

The 1956 event will be held on the Henry Steenhoek farm here Sept. 20-22.

A. D. Stevenson, Democratic candidate for president, has promised the field days committee that he will speak here Saturday, Sept. 22.

President Eisenhower yesterday announced he would speak at the field days Sept. 21.

Their coming would seem to follow the Newton gathering politically with the 1952 event at Kassel, Minn., where the same presidential candidates expounded their farm views; and with the 1948 field days at Dexter, Iowa, where President Truman made his major pitch for midwestern votes.

Far from being annoyed at the political overtones for their big show, sponsors of national field days—they are annual events—are overjoyed that they have become important political occasions every four years. That helps bring the crowds and 100,000 has become what they say, almost standard for field days with presidential candidates as main speakers.

An Appreciation For Memorial Gifts

"Anyone who has ever been a Sedalian somehow remains responsive to association of himself or herself with this community no matter the physical distance."

This comment was parenthetical to an August editorial, the theme of which was encouragement of bequests designed as memorials to serve some utilitarian community purpose. Sedalia has received substantial ones in the past not only from former Sedalians but from lifelong residents. One recently was a $500 air-conditioner unit for a Bothwell Hospital ward room.

Next came the magnanimous gift of $2,400 from Mrs. Marion S. West, Pasadena, Calif., to Bothwell Hospital to furnish two memorial rooms of the new wing in memory of Mr. and Mrs. Charles West.

Providing this gift for the comfort of future hospital patients, Mrs. West remarked with poignant significance: "Our era is fast passing, but we loved Sedalia and its people."

Charles E. West in the early days of this century was Sedalia's leading stationer, dealing in books, wallpaper and artist supplies at 408 South Ohio which is now Scott's Book Shop. Mrs. West herself was an artist of renown. Many of us in grade school at the time remember being waited upon by Mr. West, a dignified, friendly man of impeccable manner and attire. Both Wests were kind and charitable persons devoted to the First Congregational Church which too has received monetary gifts from them.

The Wests have been generous to the hospital and church which have sent Mrs. West special thanks, but Sedalians generally are also grateful for these gifts and other charitable gestures which during the past half century have not been publicized.

May the benefactions of the Wests, the Bothwells, the Jaynes, the Cottons, the Carnegies become progressive example for others in making gifts to our community and its institutions.

Memorial gifts have gracious dignity, but more than that they become an impenetrable blanket shielding the giver from the cynicism and selfishness of a material and imperfect world.

Washington Merry-Go-Round—

Nixon, Kefauver One-Time Neighbors

By JACK ANDERSON

WASHINGTON — The two vice presidential contenders, Dick Nixon and Estes Kefauver, lived for years in the same block and still reside in the same neighborhood—a geographical coincidence.

The Nixons and Kefauvers, including kids and dogs, have been friendly neighbors. The Kefauver kids feel mostly sympathy for the Nixon youngsters, who are shadowed everywhere by Secret Service bodyguards.

Nixon's dog, Checkers, publicized in the 1952 campaign, is a cocker spaniel. The Kefauvers have a house full of cocker spaniels. At times there have been more cocker spaniels than Kefauvers. The highest count on record: 18 (not including a pet skunk).

As for the grownups, Nixon has set foot in Kefauver's home only once in the past four years. He was invited by Kefauver to drop over one evening and talk informally to a group of Democratic senators.

"Kefauver is the most popular papa in the neighborhood," the Vice President joked, "because he bought his kids a bike with a motor on it."

That's about the extent of their over-the-back-yard-fence relationship.

Price News Delayed

Latest price index shows that the price tags on practically everything consumers buy reached an all-time high in July. But Ewan Clague, the professional labor statistics commissioner, is still trying to explain why he delayed announcing the new cost-of-living record.

Inside fact is that the index, which was scheduled to be announced in the middle of the Republican national convention, was held up two days so as not to embarrass the San Francisco speechmakers.

The monthly price survey was ready for release a good 36 hours before the Eisenhower-Nixon acceptance speeches that wound up the convention on a resounding note of "peace and prosperity." Yet reporters were denied the cost-of-living figures until the "prosperity" speeches were all over and the GOP delegates safely out of San Francisco.

The holdup reportedly was ordered by the Republican National Committee, though Clague blandly maintains there was no delay. One Clague assistant, however, jokingly informed a newsman that the embarrassing index was delayed "because we didn't want it to be blanketed by convention news." Then he added with a wink: "If you believe that one, I'll tell you another."

Clague and his staff expected the price index to rise no higher than 116.2 or 116.5. They were

A Fighting Candidate

The President Eisenhower whom millions of Americans saw deliver his acceptance speech in San Francisco was a vastly different man from the newly retired general who performed the same task four years ago in Chicago.

The man who took the nomination in 1952 was a reluctant convert to politics, naive, untutored on many key domestic issues, seeming almost bewildered by his sudden shift of scene.

The man who stood in the glare at the Cow Palace was the image of the fighting candidate, obviously eager for battle, showing thorough mastery of the political arts.

Without directly assailing his political opponents, he pounded out the articles of his political faith. He did not use the word "crusade" this time, but he acted as if he were in one.

Mr. Eisenhower's transformation from a reluctant general to a willing politician was perhaps the most remarkable thing to be observed in watching him. But the words he uttered about peace offered further astonishing contrast.

Americans listening to the President could not have helped noting that in stressing America's future he was striking a chord much like the one sounded a week before by Adlai Stevenson. The parallel was not accidental.

Both men are high-minded moderates. They have somewhat different goals, but as each would approach his own at differing speeds, the net effect is to put them markedly close together.

The campaign ahead thus will be fought within a relatively narrow range. If it were left to the two contenders alone, undoubtedly it would be a "high level" affair free of questionable infighting.

But campaigns never are left merely to the principals. And the record of history indicates they tend to sag in quality as they move toward election day.

But Americans may at least be reassured that in President Eisenhower and Adlai Stevenson they have two presidential nominees whose eyes and minds are on the big goals ahead.

Women's Status

Secretary Dag Hammarskjold reports in his annual memorandum, which is now being circulated to the members of the General Assembly of the United Nations, that the political status of women has been granted to three additional countries during the past year. These countries are Ethiopia, Nicaragua and Peru. There are now 4 countries out of the 76 member countries which have given women the legislative right to cast ballots in all elections on an equal basis with men and to become candidates for office.

The following countries still refuse to enfranchise women: Switzerland, Liechtenstein, and the tiny Republic of San Marino (Communist controlled) are the three European countries, and the rest are Afghanistan, Cambodia, Iran, Iraq-Jordan, Laos, Libya and Paraguay.

In Egypt women now may vote, but as yet cannot hold office. However, a recent newspaper picture showed that rifles and ammunition were being distributed to Egyptian women. Perhaps that is just a Nasser gesture as evidence of equality or a suggestive threat to the western nations.

The significance of Secretary Dag's report is that through the U.N.'s Status of Women division, progress is made year by year. As the status of women in a country improves, the standard of living also tends to rise.

"Have You Read Any Good Books Lately?"

The World Today

Arthur Lawson's Claims Are Confusing

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—Arthur Larson, a pleasant, graying 46-year old lawyer, has a knack of saying not only what President Eisenhower likes to hear but what he likes to say, too.

Eisenhower liked a recent book by Larson so much he got him to help on his speech-writing. Larson worked on Eisenhower's acceptance speech at the Republican convention in San Francisco.

But Republicans like Larson, who has been undersecretary of labor two years, must make Democrats like Adlai Stevenson feel confused enough to scream in pain: "Get off my property or I'll call the sheriff. Or is this your property?"

In his 210-page book—"A Republican looks at his party"—Larson attempts to show the "new Republicanism" under Eisenhower has a "genius" for doing the right thing in running the government.

In fact he says the Republicans have discovered the "American consensus"—meaning general agreement among Americans on what to do—and at the same time gives the Democrats credit for very little.

It's a very cool piece of writing. And it may help the Republicans in this election. But it is hardly what a political scientist would consider a textbook on government.

Larson brushes over, almost without mentioning, the fact that the administration—no matter how well it runs the government—is standing on a foundation built up by Democratic programs over 20 years.

But Eisenhower endorsed the book lavishly at his news conference last week.

Still, Eisenhower bestowed his blessing with quadruple, built-in hedges which will let him escape through roof, basement or big front door anytime anything in this book backfires. Said Eisenhower of the book:

"I can't recall every detail that's in it (hedge No. 1) . . . So . . . I can't . . . say I stand by every statement (hedge No. 2) . . . but in general (hedge No. 3) I thought he (Larson) expressed my philosophy of government as well as I have seen it (and here comes hedge No. 4) in a book of that size."

The book covers too many phases of government to be synopsized here. But at one point Larson said: "President Eisenhower and his associates have, for the first time in our history, discovered and established the authentic American center in politics."

He was reminded of this statement Aug. 26 on the TV panel show, Meet the Press, and asked if he would include Stevenson, the Democrats' presidential candidate and leader of his party, in this new "American center." Larson said: Yes.

In an interview yesterday Larson was asked—since he put Stevenon in this new center with Eisenhowe—how Stevenson, the Democratic standard-bearer, differed in any way from Eisenhowe or if there was a difference.

Larson hemmed and hawed over this bit and explained he has trouble distinguishing between what Stevenson really thinks inside himself and what he says officially as a candidate.

Since this could be interpreted as meaning Larson thinks Stevenson talks out of both sides of his mouth, it was a little difficult to see how he ever put Stevenson in the new center in the first place.

Because Larson takes so much credit for the Republicans and finds so little to say for the Democrats, Stevenson may feel like telling the undersecretary of labor what he told Russia's Andrei Gromyko in London in 1945.

At that time Allied representatives, including Stevenson and Gromyko, were trying to lay the ground work for the U.N. Gromyko must have been using his elbows too hard for Russia because Stevenson suddenly told him:

"Dammit, Andrei, you fellows can't have everything."

Dr. Jordan Says—

Life's Later Years Bring New Range of Problems

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.

Two recent letters illustrate one of the many problems connected with the older years of life.

Mrs. M. writes, "My husband who is 69 always has been a wonderful guy but has changed since he has been out of work the last four years. He refuses to go out and is moody and depressed. He has a kidney ailment but refuses to see a doctor. I am several years younger and it is affecting my health. I am so nervous I can't eat. Is there anything I can do?"

The other correspondent asks for comments on "a man retiring from work and just sitting. He eats breakfast, sits and reads (not deep reading, just rubbish) until lunch. Then he complains about feeling stiff. In fairness to his wife, whom he is nearly driving crazy and won't take out anywhere, please answer this."

Letters such as these are no laughing matter. There are millions past the age of 65—though this does not mean that all past this age are "old."

The number is constantly increasing. For example, there are about 740,000 men and women over 65 years old in New York

City alone and by 1970 it is estimated that there will be more than 1,000,000.

One thing which must be constantly emphasized is that more people should do more planning for their later years. This should include financial planning, planning for active work or hobbies, and careful thought on where and how they wish to live.

It certainly seems that the two men referred to in the letters at the beginning of this column failed to do this. While one can feel sorry for them, it seems worse for their wives.

Of course, the situation may be just reversed, with the husband having similar problems with the wife. Also, the single man or woman in the older years presents still different problems.

There are strictly physical aspects to growing older. With increasing years, the tissues tend to become more dry. The ability of repair injury becomes slowly lessened; for example, wounds

heal more slowly, broken bones

Mitchell Says No Blackjack Tactics Used

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell denied flatly yesterday that he had black-jacked industry to bring about a settlement of the steel strike last summer.

The Cabinet official made the denial at a press conference after he addressed the International Assn. of Machinists Convention.

The question developed from a speech by Albert J. Hayes, Machinists' International president, at the Press and Union League Club here last weekend.

Hayes said the Washington Evening Star last August asserted Mitchell had threatened Taft-Hartley action and a mediation board "stacked" in favor of labor to bring the steel companies to a settlement. If that is true, he added, Mitchell was guilty of black-jacking industry into an involuntary settlement.

Reporters asked Mitchell if the story was true. He denied it flatly.

"There were no threats. There was no coercion," he declared.

"I got the two groups together merely as a mediator and walked out and let them settle their own problems."

Asked if that might be construed as government intervention, Mitchell shot back, "absolutely not."

Mitchell told the 1,500 machinists delegates "America must not waste its manpower—our most valuable resource—as it has wasted other resources."

"We cannot afford to waste the potential skills of six million Negroes; neither can we afford to neglect the skills and experience of mature workers over 45."

Stewing Hens

A large number of hens are being sent to market and are labeled "stewing Chicken".

For the consumer this is a good buy. For the producer the income return is low.

Now would be a good time to fill the home freezer with those hens which are being marketed. These old hens promise good eating. They are about a year old, less tender than fryers, but far more tender than stewing hens a few years ago. Cook long, low and slow — season well and there is mouth-watering goodness in tender, tasty meat. For an easy dinner, cook the chicken ahead of time and freeze it, ready for use in a favorite chicken recipe. The average stewing chicken 3½ to five pounds takes three to four hours of slow simmering. A pressure cooker will cut down the cooking time to more than half. Remove the meat from the bone while meat is slightly warm—comes off easier. Allow ½ to ¾ pound per serving.

The amount of meat varies with the size of the chicken. In general each pound of ready-to-cook or cut-up chicken provides ¾ to 1 cup of cooked lean meat.

Home Care of Fresh Chicken

1. Fresh chicken in the refrigerator keeps two or three days.

2. Stored at zero temperature, frozen chicken keeps well six to 12 months.

3. In the ice cube section or freezers section of a refrigerator, it will keep two to four weeks.

Care of Cooked Chicken

If stewed chicken is to be used later, cool the broth at once and refrigerate both. After meal time, get left over chicken into the refrigerator quickly. If roast chicken has been stuffed, remove any leftover dressing from the bird and store it separately. For safety's sake, never let the chicken, the dressing, or the gravy remain long in a warm place. Cover or wrap the refrigerated food to prevent the loss of moisture or flavor. Unless the cooked meat is frozen, it should be used within two or three days after cooking.

Using Frozen Baked Goods

The texture and flavor of practically all baked goods will be best if they are thawed in the oven rather than if thawed at room temperature.

Frosted cakes, which cannot be heated because of their frosting, should be thawed in the wrapping at room temperature.

Other cakes, breads, and cookies may be thawed in the wrapping at room temperature, but baked pies should always be heated in the oven as shortly as possible before serving. Pies may be thawed unwrapped on a baking sheet, but other baked goods should be wrapped. Leave in the original wrapping if it is material that may be heated, otherwise wrap in foil. Heat for thawing should not be more than 300 degrees F. Higher temperatures may overcook the outside before the inside is thawed.

Unbaked breads and rolls must be thawed and allowed to rise until double their original bulk. Then bake just as freshly mixed bread. If dough will not rise to this point, it was stored too long.

a cookie sheet and baked without thawing.

Partially baked rolls and small breads are placed, still frozen, in a cold oven with the temperature set for 400 degrees F. By the time the heat has reached that point, the rolls will be heated through and browned.

Unbaked bread and rolls must be thawed and allowed to rise until double their original bulk. Then bake just as freshly mixed bread. If dough will not rise to this point, it was stored too long.

Treat A-Bomb Victims

TOKYO (AP) — The newspaper Asahi said today that Norman Cousins, editor of the Saturday Review, plans to send a team of American doctors to Hiroshima to give medical treatment to 16 more "Hiroshima maidens."

Because of a limitation in facilities these atomic bomb victims were unable to make the trip last year when the first group of 25 was sent to New York for plastic surgery.

City Golf Tourney Is Begun

Opening Round In Championship Features Series Of Upsets Monday

First round matches in Sedalia's first City Golf Championship were decided Monday in a rash of upsets after scores had soared in Sunday's qualifying round.

High winds were blamed for generally poor scores fired on qualifying day which saw 30 qualifiers advance into the match play runoff.

Monday appeared as "beat of the favorites day" when seven of the expected winners fell by the wayside. Frank Reynolds, who coppered medalist honors by qualifying with a 37-37-74 on Sunday, was eliminated by Dick Gorrell by a 3-and-1 margin. Howard Glavin, who qualified with a 95, bounded back to close out Al Swihart in a heated match, 1-up in 19 holes. Smooth-swinging John Clegg was also a victim of dark-horse doings when Cecil Owen carried the match into overtime to post a 1-up victory. Les Griffin scored a 1-up victory over Lloyd Parker, also in 19 holes.

Other results of the day were:

Vernon Bingaman 3-and-1 winner over Damon Hieronymus; Charlie Patterson 6-and-4 over Ted Maloney; Jerry Turner 7-and-5 over Fred Evans; Jack Herbst 2-up over Van Van Dyne; Leo McShane 3-and-2 over Walt Hampsom; Bernard Stanfield 6-and-5 over Cecil Lujin; Bill Gilluly 1-up over Victor Scott; Jack Wilt 5-and-4 over Hughie Johnston; Earl Hall 8-and-7 over Jack Alpert; and Sam Watson 6-and-4 over Bob Moss. Gilbert Roberts and John Hazel drew first round byes.

Second round matches, which must be played by Sunday, Sept. 9, are: Gorrell vs. McShane; Patterson vs. Glavin; Stanfield vs. Gilluly; Griffin vs. Roberts; Wilt vs. Bingaman; Turner vs. Hall; Herbst vs. Watson, and Owen vs. Hazel.

Bataan Goes Down For Count in Bout With Bantam Champ

A short left jab followed by a straight right to the chin, perfectly executed, sent Bataan down for the full count after 2 minutes, 52 seconds of the sixth round at the Hollywood Legion Stadium last night.

Referee Mushy Callahan tolled off the 10 with Bataan trying but unable to get up.

Macias, booked to fly home to begin a long delayed movie role, is the National Boxing Assn. world bantamweight champion, but his title was not at stake. He weighed 120 and Bataan 119.

"Our main plan now is to try to smoke the Italian, Mario D'Agato, out of his hole in Rome and get this title cleared up," said Macias American representative, George Parnassus. D'Agato is recognized by the World Federation of Boxing as the champ.

The fight last night drew an estimated 3,500 fans who paid $7.315 to see the bout in person.

Babe Is Reported Cheerful In Hospital

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP)—Babe Didrikson Zaharias was reported to be cheerful and resting comfortably last night at John Sealy Hospital where the noted woman athlete is suffering from cancer.

Hoover Show, Too

Miami (AP)—The Hialeah walking ring is the scene of the annual Baby Horse Show staged by the Florida Breeders' Needs, winner of the 1955 running of the Kentucky Derby, was selected as the best colt in 1955. Last January, King Haireen took the best-in-show prize.

Want Restrictions Eased

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—The men trying to make a living in Michigan's failing commercial fishing industry say the state tells them when, where and how to catch fish. They want the restrictions eased.

Some relief is expected in a decision to re-establish state hatcheries for yellow pickerel, white fish and lake trout. Commercial catches of those fish once amounted to 90 per cent of Michigan's total. Now it is only 10 per cent.

Army General's Son Joins Coast Guard

DENVER (AP) — The son of an Army general has joined the Coast Guard.

The Coast Guard recruiting office here identified him as Hugh R. Johnson, 18, of Colorado Springs. He is the son of Brig. Gen. Dwight B. Johnson, chief of staff of the Army anti-aircraft command at Colorado Springs.

Sues for Divorce

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Mrs. Marjorie Patten, 30, daughter of comedian Harold Lloyd, has sued actor Robert Patten, 31, for divorce.

Mrs. Patten, a Hollywood publicist, charged cruelly. She and Patten were married in Las Vegas last March and separated Aug. 20.

Changes Put Drama Above Recognition

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP) — By the time a television drama reaches the home screen the original idea of the original author has passed through so many interpretations that it sometimes is difficult to recognize.

An interesting example comes on the screen tonight when "Climax!" (CBS-TV) presents a murder mystery drama entitled "Buried Me Later." It is based on a novel written many years ago by an English woman named H. F. M. Prescott and entitled "Dead and Not Buried."

In the novel a woman living in a small English village shortly after World War I is murdered and a painter suffering from "shellshock" is accused. In "Climax!" the husband of a woman living in a small English village is murdered and a man who has been indulging in some heavy drinking is accused.

The time of the story has been modernized. There have been other plot changes. Heavy drinking is a more plausible motivation to a 1956 audience than "shellshock," an emotional disturbance which World War II psychiatrists termed an incomplete diagnosis in the previous war.

There would not be a drama tonight, however, if Miss Prescott had not developed and written her novel many years ago. She lives in the small village of Charlbury in Oxfordshire.

From Charlbury Miss Prescott reports that "Dead and Not Buried" is the only mystery novel I have written and the only modern novel. I am incapable of imagining characters in a modern setting, except when this is removed to a strangeness, or distance, by the introduction into ordinary life of the violence and surprise of crime."

Actress Gets Divorce And Marries Same Day

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — In just one day actress Carol Channing got divorced and married again.

The blonde musical comedy star began her busy day by divorcing Alexander Carson on grounds of mental cruelty.

She then married Charles F. Lowe, 28, a television executive.

Atomic Plant Designed For Laboratory Use

CANOGA PARK, Calif. (AP) — Atomics International says it has designed a miniature low cost atomic energy reactor to fit into any school, industrial or medical laboratory.

The firm, a division of North American Aviation, Inc., said yesterday the reactor is contained in a tank only eight feet high and eight feet in diameter and can be installed in any existing laboratory building without the addition of any special facilities.

The reactor, which costs $55,000 will permit a wide range of research and training in the nuclear field, the company said.

Parents Object To Bus Plan For Children

HARRISBURG, Pa. — Protecting parents kept 16 third graders home from the reopening of school in a nearby rural district yesterday because, in their words, the kids would be too giddy from bus rides to soak up education.

"Sit separate bus trips in a single day," exclaimed one mother. "How much time will be left for learning?"

It started several weeks ago when officials of the Middle Paxton District realized they had more pupils than space to put them in. The officials decided to shift 50 third graders to Dauphin School, a mile away and in another district. For the transferred 50 that meant a travel schedule which, though it may not have upset the children, certainly dismayed many of their elders.

A day's program was charted like this: the pupils to be picked up by bus near their homes and taken to Paxton; change to another bus at Paxton for Dauphin; at lunchtime back by bus to Paxton, which has a cafeteria; then all aboard for Dauphin again; school over for the day, two more bus rides to get home.

The parents of the absentees said "better conditions" than that must be provided before they'd change their minds.

Republicans Will Send 'Truth Squads' Again In Wake of Democrats

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Republicans are returning to a 1952 tactic — sending "truth squads" around the country behind Democratic campaigners.

GOP National Chairman Leonard W. Hall announced today a squad will be assigned to follow former President Harry S. Truman and "other Democrats as well, whenever the occasion warrants."

Teams of researchers and speakers, including members of Congress, were assigned in 1952 to precede and follow Truman and other campaigners "just to keep the record straight," Hall said. He called the results "salutary."

"We had hoped it would not be necessary to send the team out again this campaign," Hall's announcement said. "Certainly Mr. Truman showed a refreshing candor during the Chicago convention in his appraisal of both Mr. Stevenson and Mr. Kefauver.

"But against his better judgment," Hall continued, "he is now embarked on a campaign to put over the Democrat ticket which he himself said couldn't win."

Board president, said "the natural processes of law" would take care of any prolonged parental stubbornness. He added "the shuttle service is the lesser of two evils," the greater one being half-day classes.

Publisher, Actor Quarrel Before Shot

CIUDAD TRUJILLO, Dominican Republic (AP)—Witnesses agreed today there was a loud quarrel over a story in Confidential magazine just before the publisher, Robert Harrison, 50, was shot.

But police waited to get Harrison's own story before deciding whether to prosecute Richard Welsy, 35, jungle trapper and guide. The New York publisher was in a hospital here suffering from exhaustion, exposure and a slight flesh wound in the left arm.

Welsy was under arrest in this city on a holding charge. He acknowledged to reporters at police headquarters yesterday he had shot Harrison Tuesday in woods where the publisher was hunting in the Jarabacoa Mountain district about 70 miles northwest of here. But he said the shooting was an accident.

He said his rifle fell and went off as the two were having a "big argument" over a story in Harrison's magazine. The story told how Welsy introduced Peruvian actress Pilar Palette, then his wife, to Hollywood star John Wayne in Peru in 1952. She later became Mrs. Wayne.

"I never had any intention of hurting Harrison," he declared, "although I was sore because of the story in the magazine."

A. P. Govoni, managing editor of Confidential and Harrison's hunting companion, said last night "Welsy was shouting and gesturing abuse because of the story in the magazine."

He said he did not see the shooting because he had just stumbled and fallen on his face. He told newsmen he could not say whether the shooting was accidental or deliberate. "Harrison will have to tell you that," he added.

A pretty American woman singer, Geene Courtney, also was on the hunting trip when Welsy happened upon the party. Welsy and Govoni left her with the wounded Harrison in the jungle.

Both were found yesterday, the day after the shooting, suffering from exhaustion, nervousness and exposure. They were brought to the same hospital in Ciudad Trujillo. Doctors would not let reporters or photographers see them. They said Harrison's arm had merely "a flesh wound—nothing serious at all." But they reported Miss Courtney near nervous collapse.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The cooler air over the Great Lakes had moved southward today as far as Texas, Oklahoma and Northern New Mexico.

The greatest temperature drops occurred through the middle Mississippi River Valley and South West. The reading at Kansas City dropped from 82 late Tuesday night to 58 about 24 hours later. Meanwhile southerly winds brought warmer weather into the eastern Great Lakes and eastward through much of the New England states.

Showers and thunderstorms moved along the edges of the advancing cooler air. The main precipitation was noted through the middle Mississippi Valley and the northern portions of the Southern

Elderly Couple Fall Into Volcano, Survive

MOTOMURA, Oshima, Japan (AP)—An elderly couple fell into the smoking crater of Mt. Mihara while sightseeing at Japan's famous suicide volcano. Both survived.

Osshima police said Mrs. Kiyoko Kato, 54, curious to see what a "suicide volcano" looks like, stepped too close and fell in.

Her husband, Ichiro Kato, 58, tried to rescue her but he was soon overcome by fumes and toppled into the crater. Both landed on ledge and were saved by police.

Country Cousins Differ With Big City Teen-Agers on Dating, Marriage, Hobbies

By EUGENE GILBERT

Young people from smaller American communities are more sophisticated today in many ways than their city cousins.

This rather startling conclusion can be drawn from a series of studies undertaken recently by our organization, and involving more than 15,000 interviews.

Take the institution of dating. Youngsters in large centers like New York and Chicago have dates only 1½ times a week on the average. In smaller towns of 2500 to 50,000 population the figure is nearly two a week. Also, girls there start dating at the age of 14, which is more than a half a year earlier than for city girls.

Small town youngsters tend to date in twosomes; in the city they date a lot in groups. And while city kids spend more money on their dates, the money doesn't go as far.

How about necking?

In big towns or small, girls seem to agree that a goodnight kiss is about as far as they should go for at least the first three dates.

After that, country-bred teens concede they approve of necking, in moderation, between young people who are going together.

But the city girls apparently do not feel that necking is a must. And a large percentage of them, even at 17, tell us they never have necked and do not expect to until they have gone steady for quite awhile.

"Even if I wanted to neck," one New York girl commented, "where would I go? The city is overcrowded and the park isn't safe after dark."

Now about this business of going steady. Differences crop up here also.

In the larger cities, youngsters say that a couple should at least be seniors in high school before they refuse all dates except with each other. Outside those areas, they think it all right to go steady at 15 or 16.

There's a difference, the city teens made clear, between going steady and going steadily. Going steadily, a boy or girl will see one person most of the time but accept occasional dates from others. This seems more sensible to the big city youngster because it keeps him in circulation and gives him a chance to broaden his horizon while still seeing a lot of the object of his affections.

It could lessen the chances of too early and eventually unsuccessful marriage — something that city youngsters, who have seen a lot of divorce, have in mind.

For, although the city girls are just as interested as the country girls in early marriage, their definition of "early" is a bit different. They put the ideal age at 19, and many of them think that a year in college should come first. Girls in smaller places think of 17 or 18 as good times for marriage.

The city girls, moreover, feel they should wait at least two years after the wedding before they have their first child. Their country cousins think that a year is long enough.

Sizzling Worm

ALTOONA, Pa. (AP) — Three-year-old Marea Mannion looked down from her swing. "Mama, look at the fishing worm that is sizzling!" she called.

"Marea's right, it is sizzling," called Joel, 4½.

But when Mrs. Mannion came to look she knew better. The sizzling fishing worm was a rattlesnake—39 inches long, with six rattles.

A neighbor shot the rattle with a target pistol after it had slithered and "sizzled" about the Mannion lawn for a while.

Trips To Russia

MEXICO CITY (AP) — The first Mexican travel agency to sponsor trips to Russia says its initial tour attracted nine persons.

Excursions y Viajes, S. A. (Evisa) plans to continue the program, expanding it to include several Iron Curtain countries which it says are cooperating to attract the Mexican peso.

Extra Return

READING, Pa. (AP) — Mrs. Emily DeLong had six pigeons stolen from a coop atop her house.

She reported the theft to police who soon found the missing birds. Seven pigeons were returned to the woman.

Count it as interest for your mental anguish, detectives told her.

Free Ride

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — A Navy mechanic overhauling a Marine helicopter from Camp Lejeune, N. C., opened the carburetor air duct — and there was a four-inch turtle.

It was emaciated but alive and apparently had been in the duct for a long time.

SMALL TOWN TEENERS have a definite edge over city boys and girls when it comes to privacy on dates.

CITY TEEN-AGERS tend to double date; they find it difficult to be alone.

One thing on which girls everywhere seem agreed.

"What are you most interested in?" we asked them.

The answer: "Boys." Youngsters living in small towns are more influenced by religious activity than their city neighbors.

They join youth groups and clubs in their churches more often. City teens seem limited in many instances to commercial entertainment.

Yet they frequently have a problem of finding interesting recreation and many say they would welcome the planned activity of a church club. Still, they boast of their independence, even when time hangs heavily on their hands.

Teens in cities are not as interested in hobbies as those in most places. A surprising number of boys told us that hobbies are a waste of time. And they participate in fewer sports than young people elsewhere.

All in all, young people everywhere want much the same out of life. They have high hopes and aspirations for the future, but most of all they want to have fun now while they are still young.

Lemon Filling for Angelfood Cake

By Cecily Brownstone
Associated Press Food Editor

For that last porch or patio party during Indian summer, consider serving an angel-food cake with a lemon filling and a whipped cream frosting.

Bake the cake from scratch or use one of the angel-food cake mixes. Cut the cake in two or three layers—but cut evenly! Mark off cutting places with toothpicks or use a thread to slice the angel-food crosswise smoothly and evenly. Make up a package of lemon-flavored pie filling and spread it over the layers; cover the cake with whipped cream and refrigerate until serving time. This cake makes enough delicious slices to feed at least 16 guests.

If some of your guests want a cold beverage and you have instant tea on hand, it will be easy to supply the demand. Just dissolve the tea in a little hot water, then add cold water and ice. Sprigs of mint or slices of lemon, or both, are traditional and delightful accompaniments.

Lemon Angelfood Cake

Ingredients: 1 package (4 ounces) lemon-flavored pie filling, 1 angel-food cake, heavy cream, confectioners' sugar, vanilla, grated lemon rind.

Method: Prepare the filling according to package directions for lemon meringue pie; cool. Split angel-food cake into 2 or 3 layers. Spread lemon filling between layers. Whip cream, sweeten to taste with confectioners' sugar and flavor to taste with vanilla. Use 1 cup cream if top only is to be frosted; 1½ cups cream if top and sides are to be covered. Sprinkle whipped cream with grated lemon rind. Refrigerate until serving time.

Angel Talk

There are so many other good ways to vary angel food cake! Here are ideas:

Spicy Addition—Add a teaspoon of ground nutmeg to the dry ingredients for the cake.

ANGELFOOD CAKE — With lemon filling a possibility for last patio or porch party.

Gold and Silver—Fill angel food cake layers with lemon pie filling and cover top with creamy vanilla frosting tinted a pale yellow; make design over top of frosting with a silver shot.

Mocha Treat—Cover angel food cake with coffee-flavored frosting; garnish top with curls of shaved chocolate.

Orange Flavor—Add 1 to 2 tablespoons of grated orange rind to angel food cake batter with the last addition of flour.

Chocolate Cream—Stir 1 cup of heavy cream with ½ cup sifted confectioners' sugar and ¼ cup sifted cocoa; add a dash of salt. Beat until stiff. Use as topping for slices of angel food cake.

Leftover Delight—Slices of leftover plain angel food cake may be spread lightly with soft butter and toasted under the broiler. Serve hot with lemon or orange sauce. Or tear leftover plain angel food cake into bite-size pieces and pile them into a glass bowl of prepared lemon-pie filling and whipped cream. Permit the dessert to stand in the refrigerator for several hours or overnight to blend flavors.

Frosting Tips

1. Brush all loose crumbs from cool cake before frosting.

2. Place cake, before frosting, on the plate from which it is to be served. Tuck wide bands of waxed paper under bottom edge of cake so they will protect plate during frosting and then can be removed easily.

3. After first layer of cake has been spread with filling, fit next layer on top carefully, making sure edges are even.

4. Spread frosting over top edge of cake and then down sides of

Big Talk

ROSEVILLE, Calif. (AP) — The man deposited $1.10 for a call to Oakland, Calif., but talked on and on. The telephone operator, worried about a fast get-away, asked a policeman to keep an eye on the phone booth.

"My girl talked the rest of the time." "Say buddy, you've been gabbing over an hour," the bored cop had the last word. The toll, all $14.30, was rung up on the spot.

New Ideas for a Quick Favorite

By Cecily Brownstone
Associated Press Food Editor
THAT FAVORITE QUICKIE, broiled lamb chops, will take on extra savor if you season them as we suggest in the following recipe.

Nowadays you don't always have to buy the chops when you are doing your fresh-food marketing; they can be on hand in your freezer. But one caution: if you've thawed frozen lamb chops and then changed your mind about cooking them, refrigerate the meat and use it the next day. Actually it's not necessary to thaw chops before broiling, but naturally the frozen chops take several minutes more to cook per side—and they have to be cooked more slowly—than thawed chops.

The advantage of thawing, in our opinion, is that the chops can be cooked quickly. From this you'll conclude that we are not a staunch advocate of broiling meat slowly. Many modern schools of cookery disagree with us, but we have fine restaurant chefs on our side.

Savory Broiled Lamb Chops

Ingredients: 8 loin lamb chops

(regular or frozen), 2 tablespoons lemon juice (1 small lemon), 2 large cloves garlic (crushed),  $\frac{1}{4}$  teaspoon paprika, salt, pepper. Method: If chops are frozen, thaw, arrange chops ( $\frac{3}{4}$  to 1 inch thick) on broiling pan rack. Mix lemon juice, crushed garlic and paprika. Spread one side of chops with half of the lemon-juice mixture; broil until browned. Turn chops, spread with remaining lemon-juice mixture and finish broiling. Sprinkle chops with salt and pepper. Serve at once. Makes 4 servings.

Note: Broiling time varies, depending on how close the meat is placed to the broiling unit and the degree of heat under which it is broiled. As a guide, inch-thick loin chops placed about 3 inches from high heat, will need about 6 minutes per side to be medium-well done.

Broiler Tip

It's not necessary to use a range's regular large broiling pan and rack if only four chops are being cooked. Inexpensive small shallow broiling pans, with racks, are widely available and easier to wash than regular pans. If you like either pan (small or large) with aluminum foil, turning up the

Plant Shift

MORGANFIELD, Ky. (AP)—Neat little rows of burley tobacco were growing right in Mrs. Sam McElroy's flower bed.

Mrs. McElroy planted them herself and, until the other day, she thought they were petunias.

She had planted the petunia seeds in a tobacco bed and then transplanted some young plants herself.

Her husband said the petunias were doing fine—in his tobacco patch.

Medora Phones
ABILENE, Tex. (AP)—Hand-cranked telephones are marvels of modern communication in some of the jungle areas of West Africa. So when Miss Aletha Fuller left for her mission post at Johnkrama, Nigeria, she took six more. Three of the hand-cranked telephones earlier were installed at the Southern Baptist Mission Hospital there. The six she took with her were a gift from the Taylor County Telephone Cooperative. The agency no longer uses that type.
